

Investment Intern – Venture Capital (Healthcare Focus)

Location: Milan, Italy

Start: September 2025 | Duration: 6 months

About Seroba:

Seroba is a leading European venture capital firm specializing in Biotech and MedTech. We invest in breakthrough healthcare technologies that improve patient outcomes, supporting entrepreneurs from early clinical development through to commercialization. Headquartered in Dublin, we operate internationally with teams in Paris and Milan, and are currently deploying our latest fund while actively raising a new one.

The Role:

We are offering a renewable 3-month internship starting September 2025 in our Milan office. The intern will work directly with the Partner based in Milan, gaining deep exposure to the day-to-day of healthcare venture capital investing. Half-remote position.

This is a hands-on opportunity to support investment activity across the deal life cycle, from sourcing and evaluation to execution and portfolio support. You'll also gain direct insights into the unique dynamics of investing in innovation-driven, high-impact healthcare startups.

Key Responsibilities:

- Conduct market, scientific, and financial analysis on investment opportunities in biotech and medtech.
- Support the investment team in deal sourcing, company screening, and due diligence.
- Prepare internal materials such as investment memos, market maps, and sector deep-dives.
- Participate in meetings with startups, co-investors, and experts, contributing to pipeline discussions.
- Assist with the ongoing monitoring of portfolio companies, including research and reporting.

Who We're Looking For:

- Currently pursuing or recently completed a PhD in Life Sciences, Medicine, Biomedical Engineering, or a related field.
- Ideally complemented by exposure to business, finance, or innovation management.
- Passionate about healthcare innovation and entrepreneurship.

- Strong analytical, writing, and research skills.
- Highly motivated, detail-oriented, and intellectually curious.
- Fluent in English; Italian is a plus.

Why Join Us:

- Work closely with a senior investor in a high-impact sector.
- Learn from real-time deal flow, strategic conversations, and cross-border collaboration.
- Gain tangible experience in VC methodology, startup assessment, and fund operations.
- Be part of a dynamic, purpose-driven, international team focused on transforming healthcare.
